Dear Honorable Kathy, 2-4-13
I am writing you in regards to case 12-51502. I grew up in a mining family. I saw my Dad go to work everyday to support our family. He was a very hard worker, never missing a day for hardly anything. He took his job serious; he took on any job before him. He signed for every job that became available because he always said "I want to learn everything I can so I will always have a job". Before he retired the mines he learned just about everything there was to know about. He earned a good living for us, I might add not only for me as a child, but also a help to me on occasion as an adult; for his grandkids. But he didn't do it just for the money, he actually loved his job! I remember him once saying jokingly he enjoyed it so much he would have done it for free!

But he is now retired after putting many years in for Peabody, looking forward to his pension/healthcare to work for him in his later years. That's what was promised to him; many many others like him, that's also what he worked for too.

Now because of what I call greed, has come to threaten those benefits.

Peabody believes it has the right to take this away, what is their idea of a promise to their workers?

Will you consider the small ones? Not so much the large company. Will you consider this as you make your decision? Seems we live in a world anymore where there is no right or wrong, but it is. To make good on a promise is the ethical thing to do. Please put yourself in the shoes of these workers that have so much to lose. Your support for them will be so much appreciated, from them as well as their future generations.

Thank you for taking your time to read my letter. I will be praying about this matter as well as for you as you make your decision. May God bless you.

Sincerely,

Rhonda Dixon
